In my opinion this book is suitable for all ages, all countries and all people. The adventure of Robinson Crusoe is a brilliant work in my view. We have read this novel and each time we have discovered something new in it.

Daniel Defoe is an English writer. He was considered one of the first supporters of the novel genre. The author varies special styles of writing the novel. The genre of this book is the adventure novel.

Daniel Defoe describes amazing adventures of Robinson Crusoe living on the desert island for 28 years. He was shipwrecked and was thrown ashore. Crusoe learnt to survive, built a house and cooked his own food. After numerous adventures Crusoe found a ship that agreed to take him to England.

The image of the author follows the story and shows thoughts of Defoe. Robinson Crusoe is the careless young man from a wealthy family who has not listened to his parents and went in swimming. Friday is an Injun. Robinson saves him from a horrible death. In Friday Defoe sees physical beauty and besides he is kind and gentle, noble and loyal.

The book is very fascinating and I couldn't stop to read it. It seemed to me that the main character is not so alone because next to him all the time was me.

Of course I am going to advise this book to other people. After all it covers important topics such as loneliness and guilt.
